CCNFSDU45 - Side Event

Concept note:

CCFA has worked since 2010 to achieve full alignment between the General Standard for Food Additives (CXS 192-1995) and the food additive provisions contained in the Codex commodity standards. The alignment work aims to ensure that the GSFA be the single reference for food additives in the Codex Alimentarius and should therefore take into account any food additive provisions in the commodity standards. To avoid new divergences introduced between the GSFA and commodity standards on food additive provisions in the future, CCFA established the new working practices.

This side event aims to provide an overview of the new working practices. It will facilitate a comprehensive understanding of the working procedures and technical requirements for the future work in drafting of food additive sections in commodity standards.
